

Peace in all its height and breadth

A day-conference looking at current & future peace priorities and marking the centenary of Northern Friends Peace Board

Saturday 15th June 2013 10.30 – 4.15

Friargate Quaker Meeting House, York

The world of today is very different to that of 1913, when Northern Friends Peace Board was founded. Concerns of militarism and peace-building continue, however. The conference will be a time for learning, for meeting and talking with others and for identifying opportunities and resources for action.

Speakers

Paul Rogers

Professor of Peace Studies, University of Bradford

Hannah Brock

Right to Refuse to Kill Programme Worker, War Resisters' International

Workshops

These will cover a range of current issues – details to be confirmed
